

Throbbing or pulsating pain, often on one side of the head

Sensitivity to light, sound, or smells

Nausea or vomiting

Visual disturbances (aura) in some cases

Deep, constant pain in the forehead, cheekbones, or bridge of the nose

Pain worsens with sudden head movement or straining

Nasal congestion or discharge

Fever and facial swelling in severe cases